

SICANGU PROPANE

Dependable comfort by and for the Sicangu Oyate

Why Sicangu Propane?

Our business is based on relationships, not transactions.

Trust

Our team works year-round to make sure you have propane when you need it most

Service

We answer all of our calls in- house and you will always talk to a human

Cost

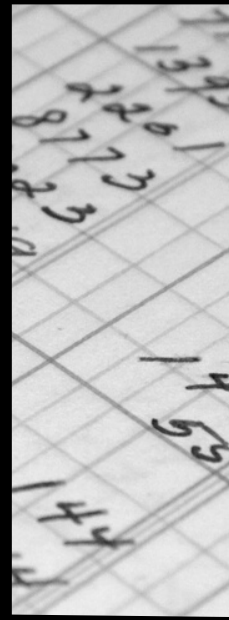

We are committed to offering affordable prices and offer regular giveaways and promotions

Impact

In addition to creating jobs, we give back to our community through giveaways, scholarships, and community meals.

Convenience

We offer new technology that allows you to check your levels from your phone or allow us to monitor for you so you never run out

About Us

Sicangu Propane is a Lakota-run small business based in Mission, South Dakota.

We offer residential and commercial propane sales, service, and installation on and around the Rosebud Reservation.

We also offer recreational propane sales across the Great Plains.
